"DEAR SIR: The Election law prescribes that the fourth Friday and the fourth Saturday and the third Friday and the third Saturday prior to the day of general election in each year shall be the days of registration of electors for such general election. Therefore, the first days of registration for the general election to be held on Nov. 6, 1900, will fall upon Friday and Saturday, Oct. 12 and 13, and the last two days of registration on Oct. 19 and 20. In view of the nearness of the registration days, I deem it my duty to call your attention to facts, which have been brought to my official knowledge, relating to and affecting the registration of electors for the next ensuing gen-

"The past experience of this department demonstrates very clearly that the sources of the debauchment of the franchise in the city of New York are chiefly found in the poolrooms, gambling houses, disorderly houses, houses of prostitution, saloons run under the guise of hotels in order to evade the provisions of the Excise law, and dives of even baser sort.

"In support of this statement I desire to call your attention to the fact that one of the leaders of the gangs of colonizers and repeaters who invaded the Nineteenth Assembly district in 1899, in pursuance of a contract made with a city official to furnish 200 illegal voters. known as John Sullivan, alias Charles Moon, who was the official bouncer at the nefarious resort known as McGurk's, otherwise known to infamy as "Suicide Hall," on the Bowery, pleaded guilty to the charge of illegal voting. and was sentenced to Sing Sing Prison for the term of two years and six months. In order that you may be fully informed as to the methods pursued in procuring colonization and repeating at election I herewith submit the affidavit made before me by Moon, but shall, for reasons which appear wise to me, omit the names mentioned therein. The affidavit reads as follows:

"On Oct. 6, 1899, I encountered a city official of the city of New York on the corner of Statieth street and Amsterdam avenuo and entered into an agreement with him in the presence of --- of 100 Bowery to furnish 200 voters for the Nineteenth Assembly district for the election of 1899. Not earling to accept a verbal agreement, I asked him to give me a written one. This he agreed to do, and asked me to call at his office the next day. Oct. 7, which I did. The agreement was written and signed in my presence by him follows: " 'I hereby agree to pay to (" arles Moon two hundred dollars ($200) on the completion of a specified work agreed on between us.

"The said work referred to the men I was to furnish for voting in that district, each man to receive the sum of one dollar and a half ($1.50) for registering. 1 | 121 then furnished him with 129 names and ages, which he located in various flat apartments in the Nineteenth Assembly district, and the slips were re-delivered to me in the Amsterdam Club rooms the day previous to the first day of registration, Oct. 12, 1899, the same names located in various houses and specifying a time of arriving in that district from one to six months, with the understanding that I was to make copies of the original slips and give duplicates thereof to the | 327 men intending to register and vote. District Captain - of the Nineteenth Assembly district, whose residence I do not know, and whose place of business is at George Considine's sporting house on Sixth avenue, was introduced to me by ——— on the same day above mentioned after my agreement with the city above mentioned after my agreement with the city official, on the corner of Sixty-fith street and Columbus avenue, and I agreed to repeat the same men for the same amount, he also giving me a written agreement, which reads as follows:

"I agree to pay Charles Moon two hundred dollars ($2000 to register and vote one hundred dollars ($2000 to register and vote one hundred dollars ($2000 to register and vote one hundred did in my distinct."

"I transacked all my business, that is, copying the silps, giving the man a copy of the original slip, sending them out to register, about four at a time, until copied off about sixty. In the meantime complaints were coming in to me that no money was forthcoming for the men. I got tired of waiting, and, instead of copying them, I delivered the original slips to the balance of the men who were sent out to register from that place. At about three (3) P. M., on the last day of registration, District Captain — sent a man called Butch, who stated that the captain desired to see me at the corner of Sixty fifth street and Columbus avenue. I immediately hurried over to the district captain, at the above designated place, and he told me that he had the names and addresses of fifteen (15) persons that he desired used before the polls closed, and for me to furnish the men, which I did. The men returned and claimed that they had recived no money for their day's work, some of them having been registered from two to three times in the Ninth Election district of the Nineteenth Assembly district.

SENATOR SEWELL ON THE ISSUES. Paramount One, He Says, Is Preservation of

Present Conditions. TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 7.—Speaking of the issues in the present campaign yesterday. United States Senator William J. Sewell said: "From my point of view the paramount issue the preservation of the conditions that now exist. We have been unusually prosperous under the Tariff law that has been in force since the present Administration was in our affairs and now, instead of being a debtor nation we have become the creditor in all commercial enterprises. Europe is to-day a borrower from our people to the extent of several hundred million dollars, and the rate of interest is lower in this country than in any part of the European Continent,

"Next to the tariff." said the Senator, "the sound money issue is the most important. Under the gold standard every man who labors gets an honest dollar instead of a depreciated dollar such as Mr. Bryan is trying to foist on the country. It was predicted by him and his followers four years ago that the adoption of a single standard would ruin the country But we have the standard and we are no truined. We are able to compete with Europe in the manufacture of all the leading articles of com-merce and the balance of trade is largely in merce and the balance of trade is largely in our favor.

Speaking of imperialism, the Senator said: "There is nothing in that worth discussing. It is simply like shaking a red rag at a buil. The men who are shaking the rag cannot successfully attack the success of our manufactories and the general policy of the country, and they dare not openly advocate the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of lato 1, although that proposition remains as the most important plank in the Democratic platform. In their desperation they turn to what they choose to call imperialism. The President was forced into war with Spain by the Congress of the United States, and the Democrats were largely responsible for the fight. When war became inevitable the President raised and equipped a large army that was necessary to carry out the will of Congress. The enemy was practically destroyed, by land and sea, in a few months. The Philippine Islands came to us as a logacy of war. Are we to sacrifice what has been attained by the gallantry of our army and navy? Should we onfess cowardice and haul down the flag because the chief of a party wants to make that act an issue in a political campraign? I wink not. The war has

WARNING TO FOREIGN-BORN VOTERS NOT TO BE FOOLED,

And to Republican Campaigners to See That Laboring Men Are Not Fooled Right Here in New York-On Them the Ruin Would Fall First Should Debased Money Prevail.

John D. Crimmins, one of the most promnent Democrats in New York city, and one of the best-known contractors in the country, has come out against Bryanism and for the election of the Republican ticket as the only effectual method of preserving the national credit and honor. In the last three weeks Mr. Crimmins has made it his business to obtain the views of master builders, foremen and workingmen, and the result of his investigations is given in this interview:

"The Irish in the United States," said he, "are apt to be strongly inclined toward the Democratic party. It was the Democratic party which made them welcome to the country and gave them the opportunities they have so splendidly improved. I can remember the Know Nothing party and the Native American movement which succeeded it in American public life, both bitterly opposed to all foreign voters, whether Germans, Italians or Irish When those old proscriptive parties died out most of their members joined the new Republican party, so the foreign-born voters were established. There has been a radical change naturally prejudiced against that party at first. That issue has passed away. The succeeding generation, the marvellous growth and development of our country, has changed

"Upon the one great issue to be decided at the polls in November the foreign-born voters, the workingmen of all nationalities and beliefs, can vote but one way, as I see the situation. They must vote to protect their own interests the continuance in our country of abundant employment at good wages, paid in a currency as good all over the world as it is in the markets New York. They must vote for financial honesty and honor. Many of them send part of their earnings to the old country. They want their remittances to represent as much value there as here. To protect their best interests, to maint ain and continue the prosperity which gives them the opportunity of earning uch wages they surely cannot afford to vote therwise than for the party of sound money. "But to the workingman who has been voting the Democratic ticket for the reason that the Democratic party was the friend of the poor and the oppressed this situation of the national campaign of 1900 is not clear. There is much confusion as to their duty, as to the direction in which their best, their real interests lie, in the minds of

The Philippine Islands came to us as a legacy of war. Are we to sacrifice what has been attained by the gailantry of our army and navy? Should we confess cowardies and hail down the flag because the chief of a party wants to make that act an issue in a positical campaign? I think not. The war has been encouraged by Mr. Bryan, who has said that if he were elected President of the Intel States he would order the withdrawal of the American troops from the islands at once lie is giving as much aid and comfort to the enemy as if he was at the side of Againado. The helpothetic trusts, the Senator said that the thought the trust issue was as much a biganeous the listing of the senate of a large time. On the floor of the Standard Oil Company came very near being a trust, but it has been reorganized and is now a legitimate corporation. The so-called Sugar Trust is in the same situation I can see no reason why five or ten men should not get together and combine their capital in business ventures if they are disposed to do so. Such combinations cheapen productions and give employment to wase earners. I am in favor of just such enterprises?

NO APATHY UP THE STATE.

Senator Platt Says the Size of the Plarality Seems to Be the Only Question. Senator Thomas C. Platt received a number of callers at his rooms in the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, and all of them brought encouraging reports of the progress which the campaign for the national and State tickets is making in all parts of the State. Senator

Platt said that the outlook seemed very bright to him, and that he believed there was no ques-tion except as to the size of the Republican majority.

Senator Platt has been informed that in A good many counties up the State in fact in nearly all of them except Chemung there is a strong disposition among the Democrats to cut Stanchfield and vote for another candidate for Governor. This disposition is so strong for Governor.

strong disposition among the Democrats to cut Stanchfield and vote for another candidate for Governor. This disposition is so strong that it is not improbable that Odell may run ahead of Mckinley in some parts of the State. The campaign, according to Semtor Platt's informants, is going with a rush all over the State. Col. Archie E. Baxter came back yesterday from a three weeks' tour of the State with Lieut.-Gov. Woodruf. Col. Baxter called on Senator Platt in the atternoon. In speaking of his experiences he said:

"We have had big meetings—meetings as big as those of any campaign that I can remember, and the people have been most enthusiastic at all the places where I have spoken. There were all the old line Republicans at our meetings, many Gold Democrats and there were thousands of first voters. Everywhere I went the Republicans told me that they were sure not to fall behind the McKinley vote of 1806, and that they hoped and expected to do even better than they did then. There is no apathy up the State and the voters there can be depended upon to do their entire duty at the polls."

BARTHOLDI FIRES SEARCHLIGHT. Roblee Wouldn't Stand for Moving the Light

Into Odell's Eyes. Milton Roblee, the proprietor of the Bartholdi Hotel, called on Hitchcock, Darling & Vilas the proprietors of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, yesterday and informed them that he was much disturbed over the fact that the Democratic searchlight on the roof of his establishment had been used to annoy Mr. Odell, Senator Platt and Mr. Barnes on Thursday evening while they were reviewing the McKinley Guards from the balcony of the hotel. Mr. Roblee explained that he was out of town last week and knew nothing about the pranks of the searchlight man. He said that he had broken his contract with the concern which operated the machine and that he would not permit the use of his roof by it hereafter.

The proprietors of the Fifth Avenue had made no complaint to Mr. Roblee, believing that he had no hand in the anneyance to which Senator Platt and Mr. Odell were subjected. The searchlight will not cast Bryan's picture on the Dewey arch any more searchlight on the roof of his establishment

MISS BARTON ASKS FOR LUMBER. Calls for Help in Procuring Shelter for the Homeless in Galveston.

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct 7.-Clara Barton President of the Red Cross Society to-day issued an appeal to all dealers in lumber, hardware, builders, materials and household goods and to the business men generally of the United States. She explains that in one night it is estimated that 10,000 persons were drowned or killed and there was not one house in the storm area undamaged by it. Thousands are without homes and some without shelter. are without homes and some without shelter.

Miss Barton estimated the number of home less at about 8,000. Unless these people are removed from the tents before cold weather sets in, pneumonia and consumption will make heavy inroads on them. Miss Barton explains that rough lumber, tongued and grooved flooring, window frames, door frames, hinges, screws, brick for chimneys, felt roofing, nails and carpenters' tools are badly needed, and she calls upon the manufacturers of these articles to help her. Bedsteads, bedding, chairs, tables, stoves, crockery, cutlery and sewing machines are needed immediately to furnish 700 four-room housesin a modest way.

stoves, crookery, cuttery and sewing machines are needed immediately to furnish 700 four-room houses in a modest way.

Miss Barton estimates that 4,000 dwellings were washed away during the storm. In her appeal she says that the havoc wrought in Galveston alone by the storm was much larger than the loss of life and property at Johnstown, yet the donations in money received by Galveston thus far have aggregated one-third less for both city and mainland than was given to Johnstown. Most of the lumber Miss Barton calls for she expects to receive from Texas and Louisiana and the other articles from the manufacturers of these goods in various States.

Work of removing wreckage and bodies was suspended to-day and will be resumed to-morrow. All of the saloons were closed to-day and there were few people on the streets.

RISHOP THOBURN ON DESTINY.

Says There'll Be Only Five or Six Great

Nations-United States the Biggest. CHICAGO, Oct. 7.-In his address yesterday before the Rock River Conference of the Methodist Church Bishop Thoburn said bluntly that he was glad the Boers had been vanquished. The reason he gave was that he believed it to be the will and plan of God that there should be no small states in the world and that large empires should subjugate and absorb them. He hoped and believed that this process would go on until five or six large nations would comprise the globe. He even undertook to forecast what they would be. First came the United States of America, extending from the North Pole to Cape Horn; then came the United States of Europe, the United States of Australia, the Russian Empire, the Indian Empire and the British Empire. He thought that when this plan was realized there would be 600.000.000 people on the globe speaking the English language and believing in the thristian religion. Then he wanted to see a flag pole ten miles high and waving six miles from it a flag on which was inscribed: "The Wide World for Jesus Christ." he was glad the Boers had been vanquished.
